

The University of Memphis
 Department of Anthropology
 Charles H. McNutt Lecture Series

featuring

Dr. Nigel C. Strudwick

Dorothy K. Hohenberg Chair of Excellence in Art History and Assistant Keeper, British Museum in London

The Theban Tomb of Senneferi: Aspects of Burial, and Ancient and Modern Robbery in Luxor, Egypt

Dr. Strudwick has been excavating and studying the tombs of the Theban Necropolis in Luxor, Egypt since 1984. He has published extensively on four of the 'Tombs of the Nobles' and his many monographs include Thebes in Egypt on ancient Luxor, written with his wife Helen.

This lecture will summarize some of the most interesting results from his 1992-2002 excavations and will look at ancient customs and some of the implications of modern ransacking of the site.

Thursday, December 7, 2006
 Manning Hall 201

Reception/Refreshments: 5:30-6:00 P.M.

Lecture: 6:00-7:00 P.M.

